

THE TRIBUNE

SERVING GREENBUSH, BADGER, MIDDLE RIVER, MINNESOTA
ESTABLISHED 1908

$1.00

OUR 109TH YEAR • ISSUE 40 • WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 2018

photos by MAVIS GONSHOROWSKI
When this long line of tractors - 14 in all - with plows attached, began in unison to turn over the soil, it didn't take long before the "field work was all done".

Approximately 1100 attend two-day Northland Steam Threshing Bee

Mavis Gonshorowski
mavis@wiktel.com

As the Northland Steam Threshing Bee drew to a close on Sunday, September 9, 2018, it could best be described as a "job well done".

With a total of approximately 1100 people visiting the grounds over the two-day event there something for everyone, from the old to the young, to enjoy. Even the weather was cooperative.

Minneapolis-Moline was the featured line of equipment this year.

A huge thank you to all of the members and workers of the Northland Steam Threshing Bee for their dedication in reliving another year of Days Gone By.

—more photos page 12

Working together on and off the volleyball court

Gator setters and best friends reach 1,000-assist milestone

photo by RYAN BERGERON
Kjerstie Lieberg (right) holds the commemorative signed volleyball she earned for reaching the 1,000-assist milestone on September 4 versus Roseau. Teammate Alyssa Kilen (left), who was on the receiving end of this assist, gives two thumbs up.

Ryan Bergeron
ryanb@wiktel.com

Gator senior setter Kjerstie Lieberg set the ball to senior teammate Alyssa Kilen late in the first set of the team's road victory over the Roseau Rams on September 6.

Kilen spiked the ball, but it skimmed along the top of the net. Both players watched as the ball rolled along the net before hitting the line on the Rams' side of the court just in bounds, a moment captured on camera by Lieberg's mother Sue. Kilen earned the kill, the action stopped and Gator Nation rose to its feet to acknowledge the milestone Lieberg had reached—1,000 assists.

"It (that photo) just showed how excited we were and (we) just knew it was going to be the one," Lieberg said.

1,000-ASSIST MILESTONE
continued on page 7

GMR Robotics documentary selected for Twin Cities Film Festival

The documentary about the Greenbush-Middle River Robotics team, titled "small town Robot" by director and producer Joe Brandmeier, has been officially selected for this year's Twin Cities Film Festival. Screening will take place sometime in October; a specific date will be announced soon. To learn more about this documentary, use the following link:

www.smalltownrobot.com.
To view Brandmeier's biography and his other work samples, use this link: www.joebrandmeier.com.
To view a trailer and more info about Brandmeier's award-winning feature documentary titled, "I Do?", use this link: www.idodocumentary.com.

Attractive mural draws attention

Mavis Gonshorowski
mavis@wiktel.com

Thanks to the Greenbush Community Partners, the wall on a building located next to the Border State Bank parking lot along State Highway 11, has taken on a new WOW! look. This masterpiece, done by GCP members Kara Heggedal, and daughters Ella and Emma, and Merri Vacura conveys a meaningful message ... "Always look on the bright side of life!" "We encourage people to have pictures taken with it and, of course, feel free to use the #discovergreenbush hashtag," Kara stated.

On August 27, painting the background navy in color was done; outlines/background colors were added four days later, and on September 3, the detailing/finishing touches took place. The very attractive work of art was now completed for all to enjoy.

"Watch for more murals/paintings to come around town ... should see one 'pop' up next week!" said Kara.

A wall on the building next to the Border State Bank in Greenbush has taken on a whole new look thanks to a mural painted by Kara Heggedal, and daughters Ella and Emma, and Merri Vacura. The mural conveys a meaningful message ... "Always look on the bright side of life."

GREENBUSH
COMMUNITY PARTNERS

