

Chappy's/ Temporary license suspension violated, clients transferred licated the temporary license suspension was violated when three vulnerable adults were observed to be living with a Chappy's employee on Jan. 25, and a Chappy's staff member was assisting a vulnerable adult with their medications. Also, Chappy's financial records indicated five employees were paid by Chappy's in December and January, following the suspension. On Jan. 28, the Office of Health Facility Complaints received a report alleging that at least six vulnerable adults were receiving care from an employee. Chappy's was ordered to immediately comply with the suspension order and Notice of Revocation, and transfer the clients to other available providers. The Office of Administrative Hearings concluded that Chappy's actions posed an imminent risk of harm to the health and safety of persons in its care, harmed the health and safety of its clients, and resulted in serious injury and impairment of persons in its care. If the immediate temporary suspension is upheld by the commissioner of health, Chappy's is prohibited from providing home care services unless and until it successfully appeals the Notice of Revocation within 15 days, and the commissioner issues a final order reversing the revocation. The owner and managerial offices of Chappy's are not eligible to apply for, be granted a home care license, or be given status as an enrolled personal care assistance provider agency or personal care assistant for five years following the revocation.
