

Mock victims were removed from the building on stretchers to waiting North Memorial ambulances.

Lifesaving procedures were performed on mock victims by EMS on the sidewalk while ambulances arrived.

The mock shooter was fatally taken down by law enforcement, restrained to a stretcher, and all evidence was removed from his person.

Responder comments:

- Aitkin County Dispatch Supervisor Patrice Erickson said, "This was a good training, the first time ever."
- South Aitkin First Responder Bobbi Bourassa said, "EMS did a good job of triaging patients and having the necessary equipment."
- Aitkin County Sheriff Dan Guida said, "This reflected great work between the different law enforcement agencies."
- Aitkin High School Principal Paul Karelis said, "This really opens up your eyes to the big picture of things that need to be done in an emergency."
- Aitkin County Public Health Supervisor Erin Melz said, "This was an excellent testament of our community."
- South Aitkin First Responder Jim White said, "Every uniform color blended to work together."

Mock victims were triaged for care based on the severity of their injuries.
