Coborn's to offer COVID-19 vaccine

Starting March 10, in partnership with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), Coborn's, Inc., began offering the COVID-19 vaccine from Pfizer, Moderna, and Janssen (Johnson & Johnson single-dose vaccine).

"The entire Coborn's team is honored to be on the leading edge of providing the COVID vaccine to members of our communities," said Jason Miller, Pharmacy Clinical Program Manager. "We strongly recommend that EVERYONE receive the COVID-19 vaccine when they are eligible to receive it."

Individuals should schedule their appointment for a Coborn's pharmacy if they are 65 and older. Clinics will open to the public on March 10, with subsequent dates following.

After selecting a preferred location, people need to choose the preferred vaccine manufacturer (Pfizer, Moderna, and Janssen - the Johnson & Johnson single-dose vaccine.)

If no appointments are available for the vaccine selected, you can change manufacturers by clicking on the vaccine name on the left side of the screen.

Ptarmigans top Polars in 61st SnoBowl

The Polars and Ptarmigans met for the 61st time for SnoBowl on Saturday, March 6, with the Ptarmigans coming out on top 16-6. It was the first time the annual football game between New Prague High School alumni was played in March and the first time it was played at scenic Southside Park. The game had been moved to Southside Park to prevent the tearing up of grass that had been planted in the last year in Memorial Park. The game had been moved to March due to the COVID pandemic.

The game featured graduates from New Prague High School from the last four decades with the oldest being Jeff Zweber who graduated in 1991. Once again the chain gang on the sidelines was run by Bruce, Ron and Keith Rynda.

It was a physical game with very little snow. Over the past week temperatures had been in the 40s and on game day it was around 45 degrees Fahrenheit resulting in some areas of the field being filled with puddles and

New Prague Area Schools had its first full day of in-person classes for New Prague High School and New Prague Middle School on Monday, March 8, and the day went relatively well. New Prague High School principal Nicole Adams and New Prague Middle School principal Brad Gregor related to the New Prague School Board how the day went for their schools during the board's March 8 workshop.

Adams said she had to deal with issues such as contact tracing and quarantines through the day and didn't get to talk much with the students. She did get to talk with some during lunch and found they were dealing with a wide range of emotions of being back in school. She felt that all in all the day went really well.

Gregor also said things went well at the middle school. He had students who were excited to be back. There were some concerns expressed by students. He noted they split up lunch by class teams and that went better than expected. He said
