SPORTS Tysdal, Hillman qualify for state golf meet

State golf meet set for June 14-15 in Becker

Bulldogs golf team had a very successful regular season and now has two golfers in senior Adysen Tysdal and eighth grader Sophie Hillman who have qualified for the State Class A golf tournament. The state golf tournament will be held in Becker, Minn. from June 14-15.

Head coach Mike Hepola said he hopes these two young ladies can have a fun and successful trip at state and knows they'll represent the team well.

Hepola said it has been a fun season with a great group of golfers.

Members of the program that played the majority of the varsity season include seniors Adysen Tysdal and Madison Ness: juniors Carter Dilly, Riley Bode and Nathan Hillman; sophomores Vinnie Boyum and Addison Maethner: freshmen Tiffany Weber and Janie Lhotak and eighth graders Bridgette Hillman and Sophie Hillman.

Hepola said the coaches have really enjoyed what the two seniors have brought to the program and wish them nothing, but the best in their future endeavors. With the others the coaches are looking forward to a fun and successful 2023 season next year.

The Bulldogs had four all-conference golfers led by Adysen Tysdal and Sophie Hillman who were co-champions on the all-conference standings, which is the two

Section 6A golf meet at Perham Lakeside June 1-2

The section meet is a twoday meet with a cut after day one with the top four teams and the top 12 individuals not part of those teams advancing to the second day.

OTC had 9 of their 10 golfers advance to the second day, including the entire girls team. OTC had three golfers in solid position for a trip to state after day one. The second day had really tough windy conditions and two of the three were able to advance to state.

Adysen Tysdal was comedalist on the girls side shooting a two-day total of 183 (92-91) and Sophie Hillman joined her going to state finishing in sixth place with a two-day total of 198 (93-105).

Council members questioned if someone from the League of MN Cities should be contracted or continue with part-time remote work with Schroeder. A member of the public questioned why the council wouldn't consider someone who's already worked here. Schroeder attended the meeting; however, her phone was muted and by the time she unmuted the council made the motion. Schroeder will be contacted to find out if she's interested and how much commitment she is willing to put in.

5) Motion by Haberer, second by Johnson and unanimously carried to review the Clerk-Treasurer job description, specifically minimum require-ments and the five years' experience. Wiese will work with attorney Jacob-son to develop a reasonable requirement section. It will be emailed to the full council. The council determined if they didn't agree with the updated variable. staff resignations are not due to better pay and opportunities. There are employees who left employment without jobs in place. Noting most of the utility staff took pay cuts to work for the city they live in to be closer to emplove

Resigned City of Henning deputy clerk Jessica Strege agreed with Brenden Markuson's remarks. Adding resignations are due to the work-ing conditions and toxic work environment management has cultivated. Resigned City of Henning utility superintendent Scott Grabe added management refused to work with staff, fostered a lack of communication, and denied informing staff what was wrong, instead of working to-

Beno Lohse questioned the council how to fix the current shortage of staff situation, and work on keeping the staff that remains. If there's no change, the city will go nowhere

Members of the public and the resigned employees also noted the teamwork between staff was great and not causing resignations. In the meantime, services will be contracted out. The city won't have employees on staff to offer the services Henning residents have become accustomed to

7) Motion by Hart, second by Fosse and unanimously carried to approve a pay equity study. Augustus and Schroeder read memos referencing the council's salary and vacation acrual decision for the recent utility superintendent hire. Noting the individual didn't meet minimum requirements of the job. Both Augustus and Schroeder brought decades of employment experience to Henning with Augustus including licenses and certifications, also meeting minimum requirements of the positions. Schroeder noted the city doesn't have a pay equity study completed and employees are at the mercy of what the council and public feel are "good vages". Attorney Jacobson recommended the council complete a pay

9) Newly hired Utility Superintendent Ted Strand provided a brief over-

Continue to work on getting the title.

14) Ambulance Director Jane Cook Update: 8 EMT's received recertification. The department has received (1) call per day on average for the current year. The director and co-director will be attending a leadership workshop. A grant opportunity is available paramedic tuition funding for anyone interested in becoming a paramedic. Cook's aware of (1) member on the roster who may take the course. The council didn't see why the city wouldn't take advantage of this. Cook will bring more information to the council for approval once known.
 15) Willow Creek Director Lisa Augustus Update:

 Census: Current census is 21 residents. 14 on assisted living service vices, 2 on homemaking services and meal plans, 5 on independent.
 Discharges: One discharge on 3/21/22 to a higher level of care.
 Admissions: No new additions in March.
 Referrals: 2 tours completed in March for independent living. Fol-chase of a new police squad. 26) Missouri River Energy Service (MRES) and Northern Cities Group (NCG) Reserve Fund Refund: NCG has recognized a reserve fund balance higher than anticipated. The MRES board of directors ap proved a refund to its 12 NCG members. Henning's portion of the refund is $58,445.43 and will be deposited into the city's account in April. The council requests Strand to review and determine electric inventory needs and report back to the council

27) Motion by Hart, second by Haberer and unanimously carried to in-crease Jake Williams' hourly rate by $1.10 retroactive to January 1, 2022. Williams successfully completed his electrical journeyman certification. Henning has an annual step policy for increases. Although this increase wasn't eligible until 2023, with the recent employee resignations Williams is the only electrical journeyman left on the city's employee roster. The council determined it necessary to compensate appropriately. 28) On-Call Time Utility/Public Works Employees: Fosse questioned the on-call utility worker time for city needs. That the city shouldn't be expecting one employee to be on call 24/7. Strand noted, as supervisor he will always have himself and phone available. Fosse cautioned a new employee needs to be comfortable in the position before the city can expect to utilize the employee at the necessary level. Williams added it's not for the sake of the city, that it's not good practice to place a new employee in potential safety situations, specifically related to electric or gas. Employees need proper training. It was also noted, there are OSHA requirements for two crew members on certain electrical situations. Wiese stated he's communicated with the City of Wadena and entered into an electrical backup agreement to assist and respond to a Henning emer-gency. Members of the public questioned if there's a contract between Henning and Wadena, and how much per hour will be charged. Wiese stated no; that they agreed to respond to an emergency. That they'll bill appropriately and on an as needed basis. The public continued to share concerns about how the city will handle utility and public work situations going forward. Hart requested Wiese to get information from the City o Wadena.

29) Motion by Fosse and seconded by Hart to adjourn at 7:54 pm.

Henning trap team prepares for state shoot in Alexandria

Hornets compete in first-ever PRC tournament

The Henning Hornet trap team wrapped up the regular season and competed in the first annual Park Region Conference tournament and Paul Jensen Memorial Invitational as they prepare for the championship shoot in Alexandria on June 14.

Overall the Henning trap team had a great season with great improvements throughout the year. Some regular season highlights include scores of 25/25 from Jack Reinbold, William Schwartz and Carter Kenyon.

As the season progressed scores of 20, 21, 22, 23, 24 out of 25 were regularly posted by Jack Reinbold, Josh Larson, Carter Kenyon, Brody Mesker, William Schwartz, Schmidt, Teghan Luke Wiirre, Dominic Campbell, Cayden Dittberner, Dawson Bushman and Cade Strege. Other Hornets, including Ella Horn, Vincent Graham, Isaac Schmidt, Adrian Jones, Caleb Watercott and Jacob Menze posted some of their best scores of the year in the final weeks. The Hornets look to get Kaislyn Bunkowski back soon as well.

The first ever Park Region Conference trap tournament was held in Huntersville earlier this spring. Teams competed for individual and team awards for the inaugural tournament. The weather played a factor for the Hornets as they dealt with a gusty 20-30 mph wind all morning and afternoon as they worked to complete their 100 rounds. Inevitably the junior varsity and varsity teams came up short as Parkers Prairie junior varsity and Sebeka varsity claimed the championships for the first ever Park Region Conference trap tournament

On May 5 the Hornets traveled to the Lakes Area Shooting Center in Fergus Falls to compete in the first Paul Jensen Memorial Invitational put on by the Underwood Rocket Trap Team. Some good scores were posted from the Hornets.

Highlights include Ella Horn posting her best single round score of the year (18/25), giving her the boost to take home the female second place medal in the 6th-9th grade category. Adrian Jones also posted his best single round score of the year shooting 24/25. Carter Kenyon led the team with a 44/50 total on the day but the Hornets didn't have enough to take home any team hardware on this beautiful day. The Hornets will wrap up their season with the championship shoot in Alexandria on June 14 where 400 teams and over 8,200 athletes are expected to attend. The Hornets will kick off their rounds at 10 a.m. on trap house 6A.

An American flag positioned by military veterans and a family-placed flag were on display Memorial Day weekend at the gravesite of World War II veteran Irvin Voigt at Pleasant Hill Cemetery just west of Dent.

father-in law and father of my wife Sharon. Irvin Voigt, who died at the age of 64 in 1984, served as a member of the Army Air Corps during World War II.

He was born in Perham on June 7, 1920, and enlisted on May 7, 1942, working as a mechanic on fighter planes in the European Theatre. Irvin was honorably discharged from military service on Sept. 22, 1945.

The Army Air Corp later became the U.S. Air Force. Also buried at Pleasant Hill Cemetery are Irvin's brother, Julian, also a member of the Army Air Corps during World War II, and a son, Thomas Voigt, who served in the Vietnam War as a member of the U.S. Air Force. Two other brothers of Irvin, Ted and Stanley, served in the U.S. Navy during World War II. More than 16 million men and women served in the U.S. Armed Forces during World War II, and another 3.5 million worked as federal civilian employees during the war.

As a note of interest, Dwight D. Eisenhower, who had served as Supreme Commander of Allied Forces in Europe during World War II, visited Glendalough near Battle Lake in 1952 when he was a presidential candidate.
