8 Packers are ready to experience the state track

By Rocky Hulne

What a difference a year

A year after it did not qualify any athletes for the state meet, the Packer track and field team has its biggest group of state qualifiers in a decade and the group of eight qualifiers will compete at St. Michael/Albertville on Friday and Saturday.

Austin was given a better chance for postseason success this season as the Minnesota State High School League added a third track and field class, with the Packers remaining a Class AA team. That meant Austin avoided the bigger and deeper teams like Farmington and Lakeville North in last week's Section 1AA meet.

Austin junior Olivia Walsh by qualifying for her third state meet of the year. Walsh was in the state swimming meet in the girls basketball team in the state tournament this winter.

"It's a lot easier when you know that you have a chance. We sane athletes at state. That definitely helps," said Walsh, who will compete in the high jump and triple jump. "My goal this year was to go to state in all three sports and I'm really happy that I was able to achieve that. It was a lot of hard work in practice and staying mentally tough, especially with the rough weather we had. We didn't have a lot of practice time."

The boys group of state qualtook advantage of the changes ifiers includes the 4 x 100-meter relay team of Tommy Fritz, who jumped that high in a very long is coming off a knee injury that kept him out of football in the fall and played with the Packer fall, Joe Walker, A'Triel Terry frustrating, especially when you and the 4 x 400-meter relay team of Kaden Murley, Soren Villafane, Nicolas Asmus and Terry.

"It's good to experience things won't be going against these in- for the first time with a good supporting cast," said Murley, a senior. "We all know each other and we all want to support one

Walker will also compete in long jump and Terry will compete in high jump, where he rediscovered his form at the Section 1AA meet. Terry hit a height of 6 foot, 4-inches in his first meet of the season, but he hit a slump before hitting 6-3 at the Section 1AA Meet.

"That's the first time I've time," Terry said. "I've just got to keep working on it. It's very can't reach the goals that you're trying to reach. The form part of it is very hard.'

Terry and Murley were both members of the Austin boys basketball team that made it to state this past winter and they were able to make the quick turnaround to track season by taking the first week of practice off to recover.

"State basketball was a good time for us and we had to focus on moving on and trying as hard as we could in our next sport," Murley said.

Walker played football in the fall, but didn't play a winter sport. He spent his time working on form in the Packer Dome and now his hard work has paid off this spring.

"This was a fun year. We're always trying to win all of our events during meets. That was the goal," Walker said. "We've ran together for most of our life and it's cool to see that we're all going to state for the first time together."

Walsh will be competing in the high jump finals at 9 a.m. Friday. The prelims for Class AA will take place that day and the Class AA finals are set for 9 a.m. Saturday. Both events are in St. Michael/Albertville.

Although she is very driven on her own, Walsh credited the success of Walker and Terry for helping her stay motivated this spring.

"No one ever wants to lose, especially to the boys. I just try to keep up with the boys and we try to help each other get better,"

Ober, out: Twins put righty on IL from ravaged rotation

 ${\sf MINNEAPOLIS-The}$ Minnesota Twins placed righthander Bailey Ober on the 15-day injured list with a strained right groin on Monday, yet another health setback for their rotation.

The move was made retroactive to last Thursday. Ober became the fifth sidelined pitcher for the Twins among the eight who have started three or more games for them this season.

Sonny Gray, Chris Paddack and Josh Winder are on the injured list, and Joe Ryan is on the COVID-19 list. Two of their starting pitchers from last year, Kenta Maeda and Randy Dobnak, also remain out with long-term injuries. Paddack is done for the season.

Ober is 1-2 with a 4.01 ERA, seven walks and 29 strikeouts in 33 2/3 innings over seven starts this season. He previously missed 20 games from April 29-May 21 with a strained right

The Twins were off on Monday before beginning a three-game series Tuesday against the major league-leading New York Yankees. They had yet to name a starter for Tuesday.

The Twins also reinstated right fielder Max Kepler and relief pitchers Trevor Megill, Emilio Pagán and Caleb Thielbar from the restricted list after they missed the weekend series in Toronto due to Canada's vaccination rules. Relief pitchers Jharel Cotton and Ian Hamilton and outfielder Mark Contreras were returned to Triple-A St. Paul.

Hayfield moves with a win from a return to state, Southland knocks off L-P

By Rocky Hulne

The Hayfield baseball team wasn't dampened by a two-hour rain delay or unseasonably cold temperatures as they beat Lyle-Pacelli 7-0 in a Section 1A finals game in Dick Seltz Field Saturday.

Hayfield (21-2 overall) is now one win away from getting back to the state tournament as the defending Class A champs will play Southland in the title game at 5 p.m. Tuesday. The Vikings would have to lose twice on Tuesday to miss out on state.

Although eager to play, Hayfield was able to wait out the two-hour delay with the essentials-pancakes and naps.

"We went over to a friend's house before the game and we had some breakfast." said senior Isaac Watson. "Some guys even took a nap. But we were ready to go. Now we're one win from getting back to state again. That's a once in a lifetime thing for most players, but for us to have a chance two years in a row, very few people ever get to hear that."

After taking an early lead, the Vikings put the game out of reach by scoring four runs in the bottom of the fourth inning to go up 7-0. Karver Hedyt, Aidan Nelson, Ethan Pack and Zander Jacobson all had an RBI during the rally.

Watson had the biggest hit of the day when he drove in two runs with a two-out single to center field and gave the Vikings a 3-0 lead in the bottom of the third inning.

"I was just trying to make sure that I made contact," Watson. "You don't want to get caught looking at strike three in that situation."

L-P nearly had an answer when it had two runners on with no outs after Mac Nelson walked and Hunter VaDeer dropped a single in shallow centerfield to start the top of the fourth inning, but Easton Fritcher was able to get two strikeouts and force a line-out to the shortstop to end the threat.

Fritcher struck out nine, while allowing three baserunners in just four innings of work and Heydt pitched three scoreless innings in Heydt, who had pitched a shutout against L-P during the regular season, added a double and two RBIs to help the cause.

"It helped that I had pitched against them before. I knew their tendencies." Heydt said.

Fritcher, Heydt and Klocke wanted to pitch on Saturday, but Krekling leveraged his way into having all three of those pitchers available again on Tuesday. Klocke will have over a week's rest.

"All three of those guys were begging for the ball and I didn't tell them who was wild pitch to put Southland
