AMAZING ANIMALS

Each week, the Echo Press publishes a Photo of the Week that highlights the work of some of the photographers throughout the area. Because we get more images than we can publish, some great photos don't get used right away.

Here are a few unpublished Photo of the Week submissions from the last few years that feature colorful critters, wonderful wildlife and amazing animals.

If you have a great photo for a Photo of the Week, email it to Lowell Anderson at landerson@echopress.com. Please send full-size photos and include information about the subject, as well as where and when it was taken.
